Kemtah Awarded Health Care Project Management Contract

Albuquerque, NM

April 7, 2008

The Kemtah Group, a leading provider of IT Transformation services, today announced that it has been awarded a contract by a major California-based health care provider to independently assess a critical software development and implementation project. This project will deliver a mission-critical tracking tool for the hospital's tissue transplant function. Kemtah is providing an array of project management resources and services to this client including tracking the schedule, validating software requirements, reviewing deliverables, assessing spend rates, and reporting progress to management.

“We are very pleased to have been asked to perform this independent verification and validation. We believe this engagement demonstrates the confidence our clients have in our ability to support their key projects and to provide an impartial evaluation of their progress,” said Stephen V. Wade, Kemtah's President.
